Robert Holman : A Breakfast of Eels (NHB Modern Plays) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Breakfast of Eels (NHB Modern Plays):

Robert Holman's work is the gold standard, beyond topicality, pitch perfect throughout. I read it one sitting, couldn't put it down. He certainly is the playwright's playwright. So heartening to hear him lauded by the current generation of shakers and mover, but it was ever thus; throw two or three playwrights together in the late 70s/early 80s, chances were the'd (we'd) end up enthusing about Other Worlds, The Overgrown Path or (of course) the first production of Making Noise Quietly. Marvellous playwriting. Thank you.

In the haze of a late summer in a London garden, the apples have all fallen to the ground. It is the day of Daddy's funeral, and two orphans find themselves suddenly alone, with nobody to cling to but each other. Robert Holman's play A Breakfast of Eels was premiered at the Print Room at the Coronet, London, in March 2015.

About the Author Robert Holman's plays have been staged by the Royal Court, the Bush, the RSC, Manchester Royal Exchange and Chichester Festival Theatre. He has also written a novel, The Amish Landscape.
