Paul Sirett : Bad Blood Blues (Oberon Modern Plays) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Bad Blood Blues (Oberon Modern Plays):

Are Africans being exploited as guinea pigs' to test new drugs for multi-national pharmaceutical companies? Why is HIV/AIDS treatment too expensive for countries where the virus is most rife? Is it okay to sacrifice lives to protect the integrity of medical studies? Bad Blood Blues is a powerfully intense new play that leads us deep into a personal and sexual moral maze while confronting the ethics of HIV/AIDS drug trials in Africa.
